VOL. XXXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1905.

NO. 23.

HON. THOMAS H. PAYNTER.

The INTERIOR JOURNAL to-day presents a good likeness of Judge Thomas H. Paynter, of Greenup county, present judge of the court of appeals and democratic candidate for United States Senator. Judge Paynter is serving his second term as judge of the court of appeals and is heretofore invincible. He served three terms in Congress and was elected to the bench while serving his last term. During his service on the bench he has shown himself to be an able, painstaking judge, always on

A personal conversation with a number of the jurors in the Hargis case disclosed the fact that had there been a conspiracy instruction they would have voted for acquittal all the same. One of the most intelligent of the jurors and the one whom most people thought would vote to convict if there was any possible chance, said he did not think Judge Hargis guilty of any crime whatever, from the proof, and he was glad to say so after hearing the evidence. The fact of the whole business is that if Judge Hargis had been an ordinary man and had not been high in democratic councils, the bitter fight that has been waged against him would never have been made. The whole republican party was arrayed against him and it is said that its campaign fund was used to encompass the overthrow of the one man who stands in its way in the 10th Congressional district. Of course we know nothing of the truth of the rumor, but certain things lend at least suspicion that there is something in it. —Frankfort Journal.

The deepest gold mine in the world is at Bendigo, in Australia. The mine in question is called the New Chum Railway mine, and its main shaft is sunk to the depth of 3,900 feet, or only 60 feet short of three-quarters of a mile.

The chief problem in working this extremely deep mine is how to keep the tunnels and general workings cool enough for the miners to work in. The temperature—usually about 108 degrees—is terribly enervating, and to enable the men to work at all a spray of cold water is let down from above and kept playing continually on the bodies—naked from the waist upward—of the miners.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard Ky.

A Marblehead fisherman reports hearing, while out one day in the bay, this bit of repartee between Thomas Lawson and a young woman, evidently no respecter of persons.

As Mr. Lawson, in a naptha launch, passed the rowboat containing the girl she called out: "Hullo, Tom, how's copper?"

Instantly came the retort: "First rate. How's brass?"—Boston Herald.

Thirteen hours and a half constitute the working day of a Chinese mill hand in the cotton factories, though in some of the mills there is a night shift working but 10 hours. In spite of the long hours the pay is very small, the best workers receiving but 12 cents a day.

the side of the people, and his decisions have attracted the attention of the bench and bar of the State.

Judge Paynter has a charming personality and makes friends wherever known. He has very properly refused to leave the duties of the bench to engage in a contest for the Senatorship. But it is understood that when the court adjourns for the summer vacation, he will make a series of speeches throughout the State, and one of these will be made at Stanford.

Guerrant, the Kentucky evangelist, has returned home from Virginia, where he succeeded in locating a box of valuable papers he stored away near Roanoke, Va., 41 years ago while he was Acting Adjutant under Col. John Morgan. The papers were hidden to prevent Gen. Sheridan from getting possession of them. When found the box was in possession of the son of the man with whom Adj. Guerrant had left them.

Saved by Dynamite.

Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At G. L. Penny, Stanford, and Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard, drug stores, price 50c and $1; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

George—I am going to speak to your father to-night, darling.

Ethel—But, George, he has a bad attack of the gout.

George—In both feet?

Ethel—Why, yes.

George—All the better, then. He won't be able to hurt me.—Judge.

Cleared for Action.

When the body is cleared for action, by Dr. King's New Life Pills, you can tell it by the bloom of health on the cheeks; the brightness of the eyes; the firmness of the flesh and muscles; the buoyancy of the mind. Try them. At G. L. Penny, Stanford, and Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard, drug stores.

James Smith, of near Green River, went to the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank Smith, in search of a plow which he claimed she had. On finding the plow and starting home with it, Mrs. Smith came out on Mr. S. and emptied the contents of a shotgun into his side, when he dropped the plow and with considerable difficulty managed to walk to his home, a mile or more. Dr. Singleton, of McKinney, was called and dressed the wound. At last accounts the wounded man was getting along very well.

ALL SETTLED.—"Papa, can't we afford it?"

The young and beautiful girl looked appealing up into the eyes of her fond parent.

"I have set my heart on the Duke," she said.

"My dear," said her kind papa, "you perhaps do not realize what you ask. In the first place, the Duke wants a million down. Then there are so many incidentals. He expects me to have the castle done over, with new plumbing throughout. Then his debts will have to be paid."

The girl was silent. She loved her father. To see him suffer was torture to her young soul. Finally she said:

"Papa, do you think you could arrange it in, say, a couple of years?"

The old man thought.

"Yes," he said at last, "I think it might be done. Why, my dear?"

In answer his daughter flung her arms around his neck.

"Then, it's all right," she exclaimed impetuously. "I have just seen the Duke, and he says he can be bought on the installment plan."—Life.
